Tiku Majumder
Williams College

October 24, 2018 at 12:00 p.m. at SPL 3rd floor lounge

A Discussion of Career Paths at Liberal Arts Colleges

This will be an informal discussion about careers at “LACs” with plenty of time for Q&A.

Biography: Tiku Majumder is the Barclay Jermain Professor of Natural Philosophy, recent Interim President, and currently Dean of Science at Williams. He has 24 years of teaching and research experience in an undergraduate institution. He is the 2017 recipient of the APS Prize for a Faculty Member for Research at an Undergraduate Institution. BS, Yale ‘82, Ph.D. Harvard ‘89. Research area: Experimental atomicphysics, precision measurements; supervised 34 senior honors thesis students and seven post-docs.

Lunch provided. RSVP at the following link:
https://orgsync.com/170689/events/2542032/occurrences/6120186

Sponsored by the Yale Wright Laboratory, the Flint Fund, and the Yale Physics Department.